Describe your personality and character:	My grandfather really molded who I am as a person, he taught me the importance of honesty, reliability and dedication. I pride myself on the fact that I've never called into work sick more than once per each job I've had. I'm a great multi-tasker, and once I start doing a job, I endeavor to finish it. My friends have described me as a great friend who goes out of her way to make others happy. I'm extremely reliable and can always be counted on to be on time and usually early for every thing in my life, ranging from work to lunch with a friend. I have a quiet demeanor and can be shy until I get to really know someone. I tend to cherish the relationships and friendships I have, and have really close relationships with my friends.
How would you describe your childhood?	I probably spent 90% of my childhood outside, well as outside as you can get when you live in a state that reaches triple-digit heat in the summer. My best friend lived 2 houses down and we spent almost every day together, our families were also very close. My childhood was full of barbecues and parties seeing as almost all of our neighbors in our cul-de-sac had children around the same time. There was always something to do and I had an amazing childhood because of all the people my age I was lucky enough to spend it with.
What's your favorite childhood memory?	My all-time favorite childhood memory was a collective week during a summer spent with my grandparents. I had been bugging my grandfather for weeks about how badly I wanted my very own horse, as every girl does when they are 10 and want a pony. He adamantly refused, but I was all ten years old of stubborn fifth grader at this point and I refused to give up. One afternoon, my grandfather and I were at his friend's

	ranch watching the ranch-crew herd some cattle, when out of nowhere someone bolted out of the stable on a gorgeous paint-colored horse. The man riding her worked her in and out of the cows like she was one of them and I was awed. Just from the look in my eyes my grandfather knew he was done for, one big "PLEAAAAASE!!!" out of me and we took her home 3 days later. To this day she is the most amazing animal I have ever seen and she is literally a horse version of me, the perfect match.
Who has been the most influential person in your life, and why?	The most influential person in my life would be my grandfather, even though he lives 3 states away. He's been telling me for years that I'm the female version of himself. He's the one person in the world I have the most in common with, meaning everything. He taught me to read, swim and ride a bike at a young age, drive by the time I was 13 and ride horses like a professional. I used to spend 3 months in the summer with him until I began working and they were the best times I ever had. He's molded me into the person I am today and I'm proud to have someone so amazing in my life.
What awards/accomplishments are you and your family most proud of?	I think my biggest accomplishment would have been when I was made the 1st chair for the flute in band in 7th grade. Even though it doesn't seem like a huge deal, I worked really hard to get there and my family supported me whole-heartedly and came to all of my performances and ensembles. I really enjoyed playing the flute and even though I wasn't able to maintain 1st chair for longer than a couple months, my parents were extremely proud of me for working so hard to get to that point.
Describe some of your hobbies and interests:	My all time favorite hobby is horseback riding, I've been riding since I was eight and I absolutely love it. My grandfather and I spend our summers riding through the California hills, taking occasional week-long camping trips in the mountains and on the coast with our 1,200 pound friends. Aside from horseback riding, I enjoy camping and fishing, even though I can't catch fish bigger than minnows. I can't help loving being outside any chance I get. Growing up with dogs I am an avid animal lover, and adopted my very own dog a little over a year ago, named Casey, that I love more than anything. I even got a job working at a doggy day-care and boarding center so I could bring her to work with me and work with dogs on a daily basis. Any afternoon

	that I'm not working or going to school I take her to a local park with a book and a sandwich and let her run around to her hearts desire. I also love reading with a passion, an 800 page book is nothing I can't tackle in a matter of days. My favorite book of all time is The Giver by Lois Lowry, its an inspiring novel about an entirely different type of society and government and really makes you appreciate the freedom we have today.
What sports or activities have you excelled in?	At a young age, I was enrolled in both soccer and basketball for several years with my best friend and really enjoyed it. I also made the basketball team in middle school for several years and did fairly well. I think the activity I've excelled most in though would be horse-back riding. Since I started riding at the age of eight, I've learned to herd cattle, barrel race, and stay on a horse who tries her best to buck you off when she's hungry.
Describe any artistic/musical talents you have:	As far as artistic abilities goes, my dad is an accomplished artist and decided to keep his amazing abilities to himself when he had children, although I can draw a really good stick figure. On the other hand, I played the flute in middle school for 3 years and I maintained a 2nd/3rd chair rank in the class. My mom also played the flute when she was younger, so you could say it runs in the family.
What are your future goals?	I'm still unsure what I want to do with my life other than I would really like to work with animals. My dream job would be an exotic animal trainer or caretaker, although I think I would also enjoy being a movie editor. I am very good with computers and have edited vacation videos for my dad and I found that this kind of work comes easy to me. I like to live by what my dad always told me, to "do what makes you happy, not what makes the most money". I would like to be able to live comfortably, but I don't have the desire like many others to make more money than I know what to do with. All I want with my life is to do something that I really enjoy with people I enjoy working with.

For Fun

Favorite movies:

I don't watch much TV or too many movies, but probably my favorite movie(s) are the Lord Of The Rings trilogies. My parents loved them and I watched them all the time with them when I was younger and I think it's really a greatly done series as far as graphics and story-line goes.

Favorite Books:	My favorite book by-far is The Giver by Lois Lowry, I love the idea of alternate governments and how much different our lives could be. I also think the Hunger Games by Suzanne Collins is a great series, it also encompasses the whole alternate-government society but more contemporary.
Favorite type of music:	I love just about every type of music, other than country, which is odd considering I've grown up in two of the most "Country" states in the U.S.
Favorite food:	As far as food goes...I love just about anything. I'm a huge fan of salad with vinegar dressing, lobster and anything else that lives in the ocean and of course a good hamburger.
Are you a good cook?	I can cook just about any fish in a pan, but I have no idea how to cook meat. Although I can make a really good macaroni and cheese and my chocolate chip cookies are always a party favorite.
Do you sing in the shower?	I like to spare my roommates the pain of hearing my singing voice.
What's your favorite season?	My Favorite season is summer. I was born to be outside and my favorite outfit is an old t-shirt and some shorts, which doesn't work very well in the winter.
What's your favorite holiday?	4th of July...Fireworks!!!
If you could be animal, what would you be and why?	If I could be any animal I would want to be some sort of large bird (exotic parrot?), because every other animal has restrictions on where they can go and what they can do except for birds.
Why do you want to become a donor?	I want to become a donor because I know so many people struggle with fertility issues and if I'm capable of giving a deserving family a life then I don't see why I shouldn't do it. Seeing some of my friends have children has really spurred my interest in donating, I think anyone who wants the joy of a child should have it.
Do you have a message you would like to share with the	I know you must be going through such a hard time having to make the decision to use a donor, I can only recipients?

imagine how overwhelming this must all be. Picking a donor is a huge decision and I hope I'm able to help give you the opportunity to have a child.
