Describe your personality and character:	I am a very easy going person who enjoys time with my friends and my family. I laugh a lot and like to make others laugh as well. I like to be there for my friends when they need advice and I like getting advice from them as well. I am a hard worker and enjoy being independent.
How would you describe your childhood?	It was a little tense, I think my mother was depressed. We lived out in the country and I was able to play with animals and in nature everyday. I was very imaginative and had a lot of fun.
What's your favorite childhood memory?	When I first learned to ride a horse I was about 7 years old. The day of my first lesson was a beautiful sunny day I remember and I went to my neighbor's house as it was she who would teach me. She had Red saddled up and ready to go. I got on and I remember how free I felt even just walking around. I felt very comfortable and natural on the horse. Horseback riding is something that still is very important to me.
Who has been the most influential person in your life, and why?	My grandmother on my mom's side is very important to me. She was the most graceful and caring person I have ever met. She was a business owner and a great example of a strong woman.
What awards/accomplishments are you and your family most proud of?	Being independent at the age of 18 is a major accomplishment of mine, especially because I came from a family where none of the women were independent. I was living on my own and owned my own car and had a great job straight out of High school.

Describe some of your hobbies and interests:	I really enjoy working out and being active. I think it's very important for a fulfilling long healthy life to stay very active. I like camping a lot as well and pretty much anything outdoors.
What sports or activities have you excelled in?	I did track in high school and I felt I was good at it. I am not a super competitive person so when everyone was trying to get scholarships it wasn't so fun. I just did it to have fun and get exercise and be a part of the team.
Describe any artistic/musical talents you have:	I do know how to read music and I know some basic piano and guitar. If I were to put my mind to either of those I would excel but I have gotten distracted time and time again.
What are your future goals?	I am going to become a personal trainer. Working out is something I enjoy and I would love the fulfillment of helping others to get to their fitness goals. Eventually I would like to own my own studio.
