Describe your personality and character:	I am known to be funny. I love laughing and my favorite thing to do is smile. I'm very upbeat, not much can get me down. I was raised with high morals, but in a very non-judgmental way. I am very creative, I see potential in everything. I love to save money by fixing things up. I am very resourceful and a quick thinker, I can fix it whatever it is. Most people would say that I'm honest in a nice way, I wouldn't call myself blunt. I love genuine people and I can make friends with anyone.
How would you describe your childhood?	Amazing. Both my parents were very creative. We didn't have much money but we always had fun. My siblings and I have been close our whole lives. My parents were wildly in love my whole life, they taught me how to be a best friend to my significant other. I grew up in a little farm town with nothing to do, but we made fun out of things like building tree houses and swimming in the creek. Most of my childhood was spent outdoors.
What's your favorite childhood memory?	My mom and dad put on a neighborhood fashion show for my sister and I. All the little girls on the block came over. My mom did all of the hair and makeup, my dad made us pageant sashes with our names on them. My dad also made a wooden catwalk. My mom took pictures of all of us and we felt like superstars. I think I was six or seven. At that age, this seemed like a huge deal.
Who has been the most influential person in your life, and why?	My mom. She has shown me what it looks like to fight on through every single obstacle in life, and to never give up no matter what the challenge. My mom is a fighter. I have seen her at her rock bottom and I have seen her at the top. My mom is every thing I strive to be. She is the strongest, most positive, creative person I know. I am probably more proud of her then she is of me.

What awards/accomplishments are you and your family most proud of?	Growing up my mom put my art in every single community or school art show there was. I was always in juried art shows during my childhood. I have dozens of ribbons ranging from "Best in Show" to "Honorable Mention". I used my talent in Fine Art to get multiple scholarships to college, all because my mother believed in me and encouraged me every step of the way.
Describe some of your hobbies and interests:	I am a major fixer/creator. I love refurbishing old wood furniture, frames, windows; anything I can get my hands on. I love reading & I love history books. I love babies and kids. I love football, I just started learning about it about 5 years ago. I like to get into my team during the season and follow maybe it's the competitive nature of it. I am obsessed with food, I love love love cooking. On the flip side of that, I am very interested in nutrition and eating healthy to encourage health. I'm not anti-medication: I'm pro-health. I am a huge dog lover, we have boxers and I'm crazy about them, they get big time spoiled. I love spending time with my fiance. He is my rock and best friend, we love doing everything together. We are both gym lovers, we basically lived there before we were parents.
What sports or activities have you excelled in?	I played volleyball in Jr. High and for 1 year of High school. I was a cheerleader from the time I was 7 until 16. I have competed in snowboarding speed contests and trickster shows. I have also participated in 2 half marathons.
Describe any artistic/musical talents you have:	I have an interest in Fine Art, love to paint, draw, refurbish furniture, paint murals, etc. I have the worst singing voice, but my dad taught me to play the piano and guitar by ear. I did learn to read music.
What are your future goals?	Currently I am a stay at home mom. I love it, it has been a huge dream to become a mother. My goal is to have my own furniture shop where I hand-create every single piece in it. I want to write a book about different kinds of love and self esteem. I want to raise my kids to think and to be good people.
