Describe your personality and character:	I'm slightly introverted, so I'm not the loudest person in the room, but I'm confident. I enjoy my friends and love being around them, but I recharge by spending a little bit of time by myself. I'm observant, calm and focused. I'm comfortable being in charge and I love organizing things. I enjoy coming up with creative solutions to problems and helping people get along. I'm generally happy and I don't struggle with bad mood swings.
How would you describe your childhood?	I, in many ways, had an idyllic childhood. When I was 8, my family moved from suburbia to a farming community. As a child, I loved animals, playing outside with my brothers and school. My family was happy although my father had to travel a lot because of the place where we lived. We enjoyed being together and time as a family is still important to us today. I would also describe my childhood as very structured. Religion and faith were important to my parents and they did their best to instill positive values in my brother and I. We were also home schooled as children. While my parents took our academics seriously, and made sure that we did the same, they also provided us with many opportunities to learn outside of an academic environment.
What's your favorite childhood memory?	Since I have to pick just one, it is going to the beach every summer with my family for weeks. Whether laying on the sand, skiing or having water fights with my cousins and brother, we always had fun.
Who has been the most influential person in your life?	My mother has been the most influential person in my life. We are incredibly similar. As a child she taught me what it life, and why?	meant to be a lady and as an adult she has become a wonderful friend. She has been incredibly influential because she is a genuine example to me.

What awards/accomplishments are you and your family most proud of?	At the age of 19, I was asked to coordinate a youth camp which I did for three years. Although I am only 22, I have taught for one year in elementary school, and one year in High school and I now work as a counselor and mom to 60 girls. I'm also proud of my grades. I was very academically focused and finished both High school and college slightly early.
Describe some of your hobbies and interests:	I love photography, cooking international foods, traveling, rock climbing, music and spending time with friends.
What sports or activities have you excelled in?	Team sports were never my strength but I enjoy football and volleyball. As an early teen, I used to ride horses quite a bit. Now I spend a lot of time rock climbing.
Describe any artistic/musical talents you have:	I was in a select touring choir for 3 years. I love music and have love to sing and have done so in both harmony and first soprano parts.
What are your future goals?	Personally, I want to live life to the fullest. To experience life in the moment, to travel and view the world through other people's eyes and to give unselfishly. Professionally, I would like to go back to college and get my degree in Non-Profit Administration or Business Administration. With this, I plan on working for the Peace Corp, United Nations or ADRA.
