Describe your personality and character:	I would say that I am a people pleaser. I love making people smile, especially if I know they have been going through a tough time or having a bad day. I am extremely honest and trustworthy and am considered a best friend to many. I have very few enemies because I believe fully that everyone has their own story and eventually we all need a favor. I am very passionate, outgoing and joyous. I am definitely a morning person and find myself done with breakfast, a workout and ready for my day before most people's alarm sound.
How would you describe your childhood?	I had an amazing childhood. My siblings and I were very fortunate to have healthy parents who were able to spend a lot of time with us. We were always traveling to new places and going on adventures. Whether it was a craft fair in town or up North to climb a mountain we were always very active. I have 2 siblings, both younger and we were always very close with one another. There wasn't much we did without each other because we spent most of our summers right around the corner from our house at the lake. We were always together, which I believe helped strengthen our bond as we became adults and started taking different paths.
What's your favorite childhood memory?	My favorite memory would be one that happened while on vacation in Florida. My mom bought a new camcorder and for the first 3 days we were there, she spent a lot of time trying to get that "perfect funny moment". One day while we were

	all at the beach in the water my dad yelled "OMG, come over here look what I found" and held out his hand to show us an old gold coin. Frantic, my brother and I started digging around looking for more. Again my dad yells "OMG another one, Johnny go get the goggles!" and Johnny sprints onto the beach to get 2 pairs that we had brought. For the next 15 minutes we dug around in the sand looking for our buried treasure. After another 10 minutes we realized my dad was standing in the water with my mom's camcorder. Annoyed, Johnny asked "Dad, what are you doing, why aren't you helping us?!" and my dad replied "well I found the only 2 I bought so I figured I'd get your mom that funny video she wanted". After we realized what he was talking about he told us that while we were at lunch he had gone off and bought the coins at the souvenir shop to keep us busy for a little while. Not thinking that we would believe him, he had to video tape us frantically searching for buried treasure! Til this day that is still my favorite home video. My brother's face is just priceless!
Who has been the most influential person in your life, and why?	My father. I've looked up to him for as long as I can remember. Everything I've learned he has in some way taught me. He is the strongest man I know and has accomplished everything he has done on his own. He built an empire out of an old garage and when no one believed he would ever amount to anything he worked later and harder. He says that "With work comes reward, but with greater work comes an appreciation for that reward".
What awards/accomplishments are you and your family most proud of?	My parents purchased a beat up camp in the Adirondacks when we were younger and every year in the summer months we would go and fix it up, little by little. Today, it is a perfect place to go and get away for the summer and knowing that we built it together, it means that much more to us.
Describe some of your hobbies and interests:	One of my biggest interests is fitness. I love living a healthy lifestyle. Whether it be spending time in the gym, biking or running I really enjoy every aspect of fitness. Some of my other hobbies include crafts! I love DIY projects that require sewing, baking and scrap-booking! I also love to draw and design costumes and makeup looks. I am also a makeup enthusiast. I love learning my way around new products and applications!

What sports or activities have you excelled in?	Lacrosse. All through High school I really did well in the sport. I started playing at the 7th grade level and by my freshman year I was offered a spot on the varsity team. After talking it over with my father I decided that although it would be a huge bragging right I wouldn't get the playing time and experience to really learn and master the sport. I ended up playing at the Jr. Varsity level and made captain both years. When I decided to move up to Varsity I was also made captain both years and also was awarded MVP for Midfield and Attack as well as an All American for our division. By my senior year I had received 13 hand written letters from colleges requesting me to play on their teams. I decided to stay local and played for the College for one season. The following year I had transferred to our community college and ended up being a part of their inaugural Women's Lacrosse Team. For the colleges first ever season, I had led the team to a 13-5 overall season and was named MVP and player of the year.
Describe any artistic/musical talents you have:	When I was younger I played the piano as well as the guitar. Once I started playing sports I decided I didn't have time for both and unfortunately I ceased playing both instruments. I have always been an excellent artist and enjoy painting as well as drawing.
What are your future goals?	I recently enrolled in a EMT certification course to become EMT certified. As of July I took and passed the CPAT Firefighter Agility Exam which resulted in an earned spot in our Fire Department Training Academy. In order to be able to attend the academy you must first be EMT certified so my most recent goal I have made for myself is to have completed and earned my EMT certification so that by next spring I can enroll in our town Fire Department Academy.
