I want to help that couple become the parents nature intended them to be.

Being a donor is a big responsibility. It requires going to several doctor's appointments, taking injections and having a minor outpatient surgery. I do not have a job at this time, so meeting the doctors appointments would be my job. I can commit myself to this.
How do your friends and family feel about your decision?	My husband is in full support of me doing this. He says since I am not using my eggs at the moment let someone benefit from them. I have talked to my best friend as well and she is supporting me too.
What would you like to say to the couple who chooses you to be their donor?	Life is full of surprises, twists, and turns. Do not sweat the small stuff.
Would you be willing to take a donor compensation of $5,000 to help a couple who has been affected by the recession? It may help get you matched more quickly the first time and if you choose to come back and donate again, you would be considered a 'Previous' donor and would be given a higher fee?	Yes
