	walk through the neighborhood with my boyfriend. We see a restaurant or grocery store and get breakfast, then go home and take a nap. We wake up, go to a forest with a river and spend the afternoon swimming, talking, cuddling, laughing, cooking supper, and sleeping in. (*Note: this scenario could also work with my best friend, mother, or sister. But maybe no cuddling.)
Who is your hero and why?	Nelson Mandela. I discovered who this man is when I was in high school, and I've been in love with him ever since. His quotes, especially from the Apartheid trials, are amazing. Filled with passion, courage, and well-spoken. Just like the man. I am continuously amazed by Nelson Mandela, and other revolutionaries like him. Mahatma Gandhi, Rosa Parks, John F. Kennedy, Abraham Lincoln, Martin Luther King Jr. These are my heroes.
If Steven Spielberg were filming a movie about your life, what famous actress would play you and why?	Anne Hathaway, because she's sweet but feisty and makes a lot of mistakes that she learns from in the end of the movie. And I think she looks like me.
What would you say is your biggest accomplishment in your life thus far?	Being the first person in my family to graduate from college. And learning how to fully-fully love, which happened to me last week. (I didn't think that the love I could have for someone could be stronger, but I keep surprising myself.)
What do you hope to accomplish in your life in years to come?	I hope to be married (or engaged), as well as more financially secure. I want to be able to provide for others and take my family on a vacation. I want to be able to reward them for giving me the chance to be successful. I couldn't be where I am now without their support.
If you could meet anyone in the world, who would it be and why?	Johnny Depp. Not for the reasons most women have, I just really think that we would get along. I admire him so much, as an actor and a person. He is a really cool guy, and I would love if we could sit down and talk, be friends.

Tell us about your most favorite vacation:	My family visited Oregon a few summers ago, which was wonderful because I love the state of Oregon. It's where I was born and where I spent my childhood, as well as just being a beautiful state. It's very green. The car trip to Oregon was the best part, now that I look back on it. One of my favorite childhood memories is being in the car with my family. My parents are very funny together and I love my sister so much, and that's what made car vacations fun.
If you could travel anywhere, where would it be and why?	I absolutely love to travel, and have been to London, Paris, Spain, Turkey, Greece, and multiple cities in the U.S., but the one place I've always wanted to go is Maldives. I've always wanted to go to a place with white sand beaches. I love the ocean and am an excellent swimmer, and it looks like a very relaxing and luxurious place to vacation.
What would you say is your biggest talent?	Being very thoughtful. I can make mistakes and say things that I don't mean, but most of the time, I am constantly thinking of what myself and others are feeling and how I can cooperate with those emotions and benefit everyone. I analyze situations very much so that I am able to interact in the best way possible with my environment. I am an extremely thoughtful person.
Reason for becoming a donor:	I am very interested in helping loving couples create a family. I want to give good people a chance to be parents, to create good children and future community members.
Anything we have not asked?	I am a Gemini. I am all about duality, variety, and communication.

Being a donor is a big responsibility. It requires going to several doctor's appointments, taking injections and having a minor out-patient surgery. Our office, the doctor's office, and your intended parent(s) will count on you to be responsible throughout the entire cycle. So you feel prepared to commit to this process? ↓	I feel quite prepared for this process, I have researched what is involved as well as the risks and have decided that it is a choice I am ready to make.
How do your friends and family feel about your decision?	They are very supportive. If I think it is a good decision, they do too. They are inquisitive about the process and want to make sure I am considering possible emotional and mental consequences, which I have, so they are good with it.
What would you like to say to the couple who chooses you to be their donor?	I would like to know their story, most of all. And hopefully establish a good relationship with them so that I can feel like I'm helping friends.
Would you be willing to take a donor compensation of $5,000 to help a couple who has been affected by the recession? It may help get you matched more quickly the first time and if you choose to come back and donate again, you would be considered a 'Previous' donor and would be given a higher fee?	Yes
Gifted Journeys strongly believes all loving and able couples or individuals deserve the chance to be parents regardless of sexual preference, marital status, ethnicity or sex of the egg recipient. Are you open to being matched with all types of families? If no, please explain:	Yes
Are you willing to meet your intended parent(s)?	No
Are you open to meeting the child in the future if that is requested?	No
Are you open to exchanging future contact information with your intended parent(s)?	No

FAMILY LIFE ↓

What were you like as a child?	I was extremely independent! I love my mother more than anyone in the entire world, but she has always been amazed at how easily I would go somewhere without her, such as daycare, the first day of pre-school, and church camp. I was pretty confident and loved to make new friends in school, and play lots of different types of game. I've always liked variety.
What were you like as a teenager?	I was pretty nerdy in high school, actually. I didn't get into trouble, I was just focused on good grades, playing the French horn in marching and show choir band, and having fun with my friends by going to the movies, having dinner, or shopping after school. I would often invite friends over to my house for movie marathons or holidays.
Where did you grow up?	I was born in Salem, Oregon and lived there until I was four. My mom and dad wanted our extended family to see us grow (my sister and I), so we moved back to Iowa (where my parents are both originally from) when I was almost five. I grew up in Iowa ever since, went to high school and college there, and am currently working in Los Angeles.
How would you describe your family life as you were growing up?	Very happy, very uniquely fun. My mother has always taught us that the best things in life are free, so I always appreciate the simple things in life because of her. My father used to play made-up games with my sister and I all the time, so we love being outside and being active because of him. My family has a great sense of humor and is good at solving any problems that arise, so comedy as a form of diplomacy is also a good skill I learned from being a part of my family.
Do you have any siblings? If so, tell us about each of them:	I have one sister, Chloe Elizabeth, and she is just entering college this year. She is very different from me, a little more introverted, but very spontaneous. She is a unique girl and we are good friends. I love her in a way that is very different from other friends, since she's my only sister.
Do you have any children? If so, tell us about each of them:	No
