Nick Name: Pam.:

Sports/Athletics: I don't play any actual sport, just dance. However, I am a Hockey/Basketball fan and on occasion I watch College and Professional Football as well. +

Favorite subject in school: My favorite subject in school was choir and drama class! But, I was good at all. +

Favorite Books: I love any Amy Tan novel. I love mystery and suspense- Lorenzo Cartarrera (Sleepers fame), and my new author that I'm falling for is Marian Keyes. +

Favorite Movies: "Rebel Without a Cause", "Westside Story", any mel brooks directed film; I do love to watch films, just person ally don't get a lot of time. But, the movies I love to watch are funny, satirical films. Every girl loves a romantic film and I fall for those most of the time. I do not like horror films at all- they make me squirm and I get scared easily when I watch them. +

How would you describe yourself? I would describe myself as a funny individual, caring and sensitive. I love my friends like my family. I'm a hard worker and very determined when I put my mind to something. I do cry watching Disney movies and I have a soft spot for animals. I'm very family oriented, though I am not as close to my family as I would wish to be. However, family is always first for me. I'm a very person able person, though I'm shy at first. Give me some time and then I come around. +

What would you say is your best personality trait? My best personality trait is that I like to make people feel comfortable around me. I don't want anyone to feel 'out of place.' I will go out of my way to make sure everyone around is happy. +

What is your most unique quality? I'm very trustworthy. I have friends that trust me more than anyone. +

Describe yourself as a child: I was an active and happy child. As I got older into middle/high school, I was a definite bookworm! I was always around the library and reading a new book every other week. Saying that, I knew when to stop and see friends and enjoy them as well. +

Why do you want to be an egg donor? If I don't get that chance to have a family of my own, I want to give someone else that opportunity to have children and have the family they've always wanted. I believe any person that wants to have children should be able to have that gift. +
